LEXINGTON HOME BRANDS JOINS ABC'S "EXTREME MAKEOVER: HOME EDITION"

High Point, NC (November 11, 2009) – Lexington Home Brands announced today that they will be joining ABC Television's Emmy Award winning "Extreme Makeover: Home Edition" for a project to construct and furnish a custom home for a deserving local family. Lexington was chosen by the design team of the popular program because of the company's diverse product line, and its connection to the community for over 100 years.

We are delighted to participate with Extreme Makeover: Home Edition," said Jim Burke, senior vice president of sales at Lexington Home Brands. "Our employees have been a part of this community for over a century, and the opportunity to furnish a home built through the outpouring of local support and volunteerism is a privilege. This is what we do best, and the chance to showcase the talent of our employees and the quality of our product in the home of a deserving family is as good as it gets."

The "Extreme Makeover: Home Edition" design team will select furnishings for the home from Lexington's retail store in the town of Lexington, NC and from the company's 100,000 square foot showroom complex which is used to introduce new collections for dealers at the High Point International Furniture Market every April and October.

On November 11, 2009, a local family will answer a knock on the door and find "Extreme Makeover: Home Edition" team leader Ty Pennington and his design team waiting to transform their home and their lives. Five families in the area have been nominated by their friends and families to receive the home makeover in recognition of their general day-to-day heroism. In a period of one week the team will destroy the old house, lay a new foundation, frame, finish, trim, decorate and furnish a new home. This will include landscaping the home, and a community improvement project.

"When it comes to craftsmanship and great home furnishings, continued Burke, it certainly helps when the project is being built in the furniture capital of the world. While the timeline may appear daunting to most, our employees are used to doing their own version of an extreme makeover on a 100,000 square foot furniture showroom every 180 days. This project will be fun."

The anticipated date for the family's return to their new home is November 17, 2009. Volunteers and the public are invited to participate in the call to "Move That Bus!"
